

Acknowledgements

Before introducing the first thematic section of 2013, we would like to express our gratitude to the people that never get recognised for the crucial work they do for the journal: the anonymous reviewers. The referees are the core of academic publication: an indispensable voice of expertise for the editor and a source of support and constructive critique for the authors. While they often contribute greatly to the outcome of the final publication they are per definition always left out when credits are distributed. That is why we, every second year, like to acknowledge all those people who have helped us over the last two years. This time our gratitude goes to the following who have peer reviewed for Culture Unbound in 2011 and 2012:
